In our submitted PAP, the outcome variable "$GEoutcome_$ift" for H3 was incorrectly defined at the individual level, and the corresponding regression model was also misstated. Our intention was to define the outcome as the difference in hours spent on recreational activities and hours spent on sport activities between parents, and the regression should have been specified at the family level rather than the individual level. This discrepancy only became apparent after examining the data.